FICTIONAL CASE BRIEF - FOR SOFTWARE TESTING ONLY
Synthetic sample served by the NyayVivek UI demo.

Criminal Appeal - Conviction under Section 302 IPC (fictional, events dated 2022-2023)

Case label (synthetic): State v. Arjun Mehta, Sessions Trial No. 14 of 2022, Court of Sessions, Rampur (fictional). Appeal filed 2023.

Facts as invented: The appellant was convicted for the murder of his business partner, Vikram Rao (fictional), on the night of 14 March 2022. The prosecution case rests entirely on circumstantial evidence: last-seen testimony of two witnesses; recovery of a blood-stained knife on the appellant's disclosure statement under Section 27 of the Evidence Act; and medical evidence of death by stabbing within 24 hours of the last-seen time.

Evidence deliberately NOT mentioned: no forensic or serological report, no fingerprint evidence, no DNA analysis, no call-detail or location records.

Grounds of appeal (invented): the chain of circumstances is incomplete; the recovery is tainted; motive alone cannot substitute for proof.

Relief sought: acquittal, or in the alternative remand for fresh trial.

This file is 100 percent invented. Fictional events predate 1 July 2024, so citations follow the law then in force. Not legal advice.